moral) refused to obey the cruei parent's manuate, and a clandestine marriage was consummated. As soon as the father was informed of this proceeding, he had Harriet arrested for "obtaining goods under false pretenses," or some other spurious charge; obtained and destroyed the evidence of his son's marriage, and sent him to this city, of his son's marriage, and sent him to this city,

In the language of Parthenia, "two hearts with but a single thought, two souls that beat with but a single thought, two souls that beat as one," will generally overcome all ordinary obstacles that "cruel parients" interpose, and finally become united "for better or worse." Such has been the experience, as we must tell it in brief, of Adolph Etienne Godeffroy, a youth of 20 years, and Harriet Emilie Kohfahl, a maiden of only 18 summers. Adolph, who is the son of the richest man in Hamburg, fell in love, most violently and incurably, with Harriet, who first appeared to him in the form of a premiere danseuse, light as a fairy and beautiful as a sylph. His passion, which he could not conceal, was reciprocated by Harriet, and the rich parient was appealed to. He, of course, contrasted his bullion with the gauze and tinsel offered by the USUALLY ABOUT. A HOUSE. We present ourselves to the citizens of Indianapolis, and of the State at large, and ask their patronage, and assure them that they need not go to Cincinnati to get work done, for we are prepared to do anything in the above line as cheup, and in as workmanlike manner as can be done anywhere. We warrant to give satisfaction in all work done by us.

those so dear to him. "Year after year success crowned his efforts. In the village where his mother had passed the years of her childhood and the first years of her married life, he purchased a pleasant residence for her, and then, a lucrative business being offered to him in the West, he came here.

The Blue Stocking.

The term is applied to a lady of some literary taste. Mills, in his "History of Chivalry," traces it to the Society de la Colza, formed at Venice in 1400. Then the rejected title crossed the Alps, finding a congenial Parisian society, and particularly branded female marking for awhile the vanity of small scholar-ship in female coteries. The blue stocking of the last century, however, is of English growth Boswell, in his "Life of Johnson" (1781), records the origin of the Blue Stocking Clubs: "One of the most eminent members of these societies when they first commenced, was Mr. Stillingfleet (grandson of the Bishop), whose dress was remarkably grave; and in particular it was observed that he wore blue stockings. Such was the excellence of his conversation, that his absence was felt so great a loss that it used to be said, 'We can do nothing without the blue stock ings;' and thus, by degrees, the title was estab

Miss Hannah Moore has admirably described a Blue Stocking Club in her "Bas-Bleu." The last of this Club was the lively Miss Moncton (afterward Countess of Cork), who used to have the finest bit of blue at the house of her mother Lady Galway. In the early Greek comedy of the "Banquet of Plutarch," there is a specimen of a blue stocking, or "Bas-Bleu."

The Reported Capitulation of the Mormons. We believe that no official information has been received by the Government giving confirmation to the advices, very important if true, that have been telegraphed from St. Louis. These advices come with an impress of truth, and are more circumstantial than spurious intelligence usually is. If the news prove true, it will be welcome in deed. It is hardly consistent with previous adtaken by the Mormons to cut off our supply trains and harass our army in detail; but the news is so gratifying and welcome, that few are disposed to question it. If true, it will be a new proof of the value of energetic measures and a stern policy on the part of Government toward rebellion.

Mere passivity or non-resistance on the part of the Mormons, in the presence of our army, will amount, however, to very little in the settlement amount, nowever, to very little in the settlement of this Mormon trouble. The real curse of Utah is the impostor, Brigham Young; and even if the news be true of his pacific overtures to the officers sent out by the Government, we doubt whether it can be regarded as a bona fide submission. No settlement of the Utah difficulty can be regarded as effectual or reliable which leaves this impostor in the exercise of his domin ion over the religious mind of that community. We may have the semblance of peace, but there can be no peace in fact between the Federal Government and the community who acknowledge Young as their ruler and prophet. Nor can there be any security in that community for the citizens of the United States who profess a different belief, so long as the despotism of the Mormon church remains. Were the reported news true, therefore, we should be slow to regard it as con clusive of peace; to regard any peace as reliable which left Brigham Young the despot of Utah.—

The Republican papers are in ill humor. They do not like it because the Democracy of Indiana are united. They hoped that the Kansas question would create permanent division. Their members of Congress sacrificed their "no more slave States" doctrine by voting for the Montagement hill which said that a clay State (northease will which said that a clay State (northease states). gomery bill, which said that a slave State (north of the Missouri Compromise line, too,) might come into the Union if the people of such State desired slavery. They thus practically adopted the Democratic doctrine of "popular soverignty," and they showed the people that it was the true national doctrine. Hence their ill humor because the Democracy very coolly refuses to divide on the Kansas question to suit their opponents. The Republicans are difficult to please, and Democrate have no disposition to waste time. ponents. The Republicans are difficult to please, and Democrats have no disposition to waste time over such an enterprise. The British Outrages upon American Vessels.

The President has sent to Congress the correspondence which has taken place, and the intimes one color, particularly blue, prevailed. De structions forwarded to Mr. Dallas, in reference clear and free. Hence the power of the public la Colza lasted until 1590, when Italian literature to the outrage committed upon the American vessel Cortez by a British armed cruiser. The vessel Cortez by a British armed cruiser. The attention of the British Government is called to dies; but, in a land of constitutional liberty like Next it diverted France to England, the subject with the belief that the occurrences ours, it lives in fearless strength to reflect and which took place will receive its disavowal and condemnation. The position taken by General inviolate—that a vessel having papers stating her American character, is subject to neither search nor capture by British cruisers. Against the right of search our Government has ever taken high ground. This the British Government well knows, and unless it disavows the acts of its agents, a submission to the insult will be a national degradation. The spirit of the nation will not brook the insult. Our nationality and independence are gone, if we permit an indignity to our flag upon the high seas without redress. The people look to the Government to vindicate the national honor for the recent insolent outrages upon American vessels by British cruisers. The Washington correspondent of the Philadelphia Pennsulvanian makes the following comments upon the subject, which will be responded to by every loyal citizen : It has now become almost a daily occurrence for outrages to be committed on American mer-chant vessels by British cruisers; and the ridiculous plea or excuse set up on the part of the British Government, is the suppression of the slave trade. They fire into, overhaul and search our vessels, in American waters, at that, with impunity—alleging or giving as an excuse for this high-handed and outrageous conduct, that late in the day for them to recognize it now.

These recent outrages, I understand, will be made the subject of Cabinet consultation, and, un-less I am greatly mistaken in the man who is at the head of the Government, these insults to the American flag and to American citizens, in American waters, will be rigidly inquired into, and speedily, too. These outrages must be stopped.
The proper course for our Government to pursue in the future, under the circumstances, is to augment and increase our squadron in the Gulf of Mexico, and at all other points where our commerce or our merchant vessels are interfered with, and that they—the officers—be instructed to protect our commerce from the indignities and insults offered them by the cruisers.

The Land Bribe.

The more the charge made by the Republicans that the English ordinance is a "bribe" to the people of Kansas to accept the Lecompton Constitution, is examined, the more ridiculous it appears. It gives no more than the Crittenden-Montgomery bill, and one hundred and seventy sections of land less than the constitution, is about nine inches since Sunday night, and is still coming up slowly. The water is now within a few inches of the top of the levee below the city, and nearly on a level with the levee at Belgrade, the celebrated Dunn bill of 1856, which received the approval of the Black Republican Congress of that year. According to Republican logic, the Montgomery bill is no "bribe"—the Dunn bill was no "bribe"-but the English bill is a "bribe" to the people of Kansas to come into the Union, when the English ordinance is precisely similar in its provisions to the Montgomery grant, and less liberal than the Dunn bill, a Republican neasure, which granted more land than either! And yet Republicans charge that the new Kansas bill is a "bribe" to the virtuous patriots of Kan-

Beath of Hon. George W. Brown The demise of this gentleman, on Monday last, The demise of this gentleman, on Monday last, was sudden and unexpected. In excellent health he left his dwelling, near Blue Ridge, Shelby County, to assist his sons and a farm-hand in cutting up into asw-logs a large tree which had been blown down by a storm. While the others worked with a crossout saw, he took an ax and commenced chopping off the top of the tree, but had struck but a few licks when he was seen to fall. The first supposition was that he had cut himself with the ax and fallen, but on going to him it was discovered that he was dying from the effects of a fit of apoplexy. All efforts to restore him were in vain, and he died in the arms of his son.

Mr. Brown was universally beloved by his immediate neighbors, and was highly esteemed by his many acquaintances throughout the State. He was henored by his constituents with a seat in the Lezislature as a representative from Russi County in 1841. After his removal to Snelby County, he was elected to the same body in 1850, and afterward served as a member of the Senate in the sessions of 1855 and 1857. We are hardly prepared to assert, with John Tobin, "that there are no mysteries with honest men;" but it is certainly true that the fewer they have, the better for the continuance of their honesty. There are matters of private business and individual feeling into which no one has a right to pry, and which every one has a perfect right to conceal; but, though such concealment is no just token of deception, its entire absence is an in variable mark of sincerity and honesty. Hence while wrong and treachery may underlie mys

The rules that apply to the conduct of individuals, apply equally well to the conduct of nations, which are but aggregations of individuals. If, therefore, we agree that individuals whole truth, we must also agree that nations should regulate their intercourse, not by diplospiring that confidence in their representative rulers which is essential to the true realization of the theory of Jefferson, that all governmotives which have influenced and which now animate the Kansas shriekers. most beautiful, eloquent, logical, triumphantly convincing and patriotic speech. He proclaimed and asserted the doctrine of popular sove, eigntythe right of man to govern himself. From this fundamental principle, underlying the constitution itself, the Democratic party had not departed. This principle—simple, beautiful and sublime in its operation-was applied, in our Democratic government, to every form of social and political organization-from the township, through the county and State, up to the National government itself. The people of a township regulated The Old School Presbyterian Assembly, their own affairs in their own way, without the inin session at New Orleans, resolved to hold their terference of any adjoining township. STEWART & BOWEN'S A CARD.

If wealth, with a steady and prempt attention to a legiti-mate insurance business, and the execution of contracts in good faith, have inducements with the public in selecting their underwriter, we refer them, for test of quality and our claims to their patronage, to records of past services, tend-ering their continuance with increasing ability and facilities BURNET HOUSE. in future.

WM. HENDERSON, Agent,
Indianapolis, Ind.
Application can be made to E. H. Barry, Clerk, who is fully authorised to transact business connected with the agency.

THE SUBSCRIBER TAKES THIS opportunity of greeting his old friends, patrons and the public generally, and begs leave to state that the above magnificent establishment—architecturally and otherwise the finest in America—will henceforth be conducted on a scale of enlarged liberality and accommodation worthy its widely extended reputation.

In aympathy with the spirit of retrenohment and economy rendered imperative by the stringency of the times, and pervading all classes, the price of daily board will from this date be reduced to Two bollars.

The advantages of the Burnet House over all other Hotels in Cincinnati, are manifold; among which are more liberal and elegant architecture, numerous and easily accessible offices of public convenience, the finest Dining Rooms, and Ladies' Drawing Room in America. The most liberal arrangement for taking meals, embracing nearly every hour in the twenty-four, great centralness of situation, and close proximity to all prominent places of business.

Trusting to a recognition of these important advantages
I remain very truly yours.

COPPER-SMITHING.

COTTRELL & KNIGHT are now prepared to take jobs of Copper work of any amount and with their experience in the Copper-Smithing business and a large and convenient shop, built expressly for their trade (an advantage enjoyed by very few copper smiths) and also having the best of machinery and tools, we feel justified in saying that there is no other shop in the Western country that can compete with us in workmanship. Distillers and Brewers are particularly invited to call and examine our work before they order, as we keep the best of workmen, it is unnecessary to go any farther than Indianapolis for copper work for Distilleries and Breweries. We are prepared to manufacture Still Worms, Still and Brew Kettles of any size. We will duplicale Buffalo, Cincinnati, Louisville and St. Louis prices, and further, we will warrant all our work to be perfect in every particular or no pay. We are now permanently established in Indianapolis and we desire to do a business that will merit the confidence and patronage of the public.

We are also prepared to furnish Brass Work of any description and to do all kinds of Sheet Iron, Brass and Ton Work at the shortest notice. All orders for work respectfully solicited. We keep on hand a large assortment of Lead Pipe, which we will sell at Gincinnati prices.

N. B.—We pay the highest price in cash for eld Copper, Brass and Lead. Shop on Delaware street opposite Cental Depot COPPER-SMITHING.
